 The above staff members have a combined experience in excess of 220 years.

MADAN Singh & Associates cc, established in 1991 in Durban, is a consulting firm that provides civil structural engineering services and project management services.

Its goal of delivering the highest quality design and engineering services available is closely related to its incorporation of state of the art innovative technology in its design philosophy. The company features the most advanced applications and software available for civil and structural engineering design, analysis, modeling, detailing and documentation. Madan Singh & Associates' goal is to provide high quality, cost effective design, and to meet required schedules and deadlines.

The continued growth of Madan Singh & Associates reflects its success in establishing an organisation staffed with experienced engineers, technologists and technical staff dedicated to their professions. The company is as strong as its staff.

Madan Singh & Associates cc is also an active member of prominent engineering institutions and associations in South Africa.

The company has a track record of employing and training students from technicians and universities, giving them (students) hands-on experience. Currently Madan Singh & Associates cc is involved in the training of young professionals at various municipalities.

The company's mission is to be a service provider which ensures the building of an affordable sustainable development to enhance the quality of life.

Recent Awards and Achievements
